ABSTRACT

The objective of this academic article, the authors aim to study the effectiveness of pure energy that has been used to preserve human health. The importance and benefit of balancing the body and the mental state of the patient or human being who wants to develop themselves to gain self-awareness in daily life. The existence of physical, mental, and work activities, the relationships and social coexistence with others, including the environment in which elements are involved and affected to human health physically and mentally. Looking at everything holistically, one will find that it's all a process of existing, locating and changing in physical condition including feelings or mental state, and environment, as they are. This is the law of truth or natural law which corresponds to the Buddhism teaching – “the Three Characteristics”. Therefore, in order to live in today's society and environment and to balance normalization living, it is necessary to magnify the pure energy into new knowledge, creating understanding and leading to acceptance so that human beings can apply and utilize it in their day-to-day life efficiently.

Keywords: Pure Energy, Effectiveness, HealthCare

I. INTRODUCTION

In the civilization, the livelihood and environment around it has been changed. The so-called technology plays a role in human, society and environment. Many things have evolved development to faster and more convenience in the 4 basic needs of human life. However, everything has advantage and disadvantage. If one looks only at the good side and forget to look at the negatives side, it can damage the balance of oneself and its surrounding, such as health or environment. Nowadays, the advancement of science and technology lead to the modern medical evolution. Although people livewith more illnesses along with the evolution of pathogens, the trend is that human will have longer life. Modern medical science is a fast and effective treatment, however, it also has side effects from the chemical drugs or radiation treatments being used to treat patients according to the severity of the disease. Effects of the use of chemical drugs or radiation destroys the patient's physical health and also destroys the nature of the environment.

In the past, Thailand had traditional or oriental medicine. Thai traditional medicine is the wisdom that utilize natural products to produce medicine, such as leaf or root, fruit or crops, water and air as medicines. The wisdom treatment method based on potentiality of mind, faith and belief. Oriental medicine treatment, traditional medicine or traditional Thai medicine can also be called alternative medicine. Pure Energy healing is also one of the alternative medicine which will bring pure energy into the body of patients. Pure energy will balance the patient's body as a holistic remedy, meaning healing both physical, mental and spiritual at the same time.

According to the author's thesis, the research on Management effectiveness of The Energy for Health Care and Environment Research Center which was conducted under two advisors namely Professor Dr. Boonton Dockthaisong and Associate Professor Dr. Sman Ngamsanit. It was studied from the one who has accessibility to Pure energy that can be used for benefit of human, animals and environment namely Mr. Kraisorn Prompitak (LoongNgorkPureEnergy) - Director of The Energy for Health Care and Environment Research Center. The objective of the research was aimed to study the healthcare of patients using pure energy includes the management and services to patient of the Energy for Health Care and Environment Research Center. As a result of the study, pure energy for healthcare was the healing using energy from nature to heal patients for the benefit of patients. Additionally, pure energy is also useful for holistic human healing and development, allowing people to know, understand and develop themselves to access their own pure energy and can initially bring pure energy to take care themselves (Bumbud, 2019).

Pure energy which Mr. Kraisorn Prompitak discovered is a new science or new knowledge in the 21st century. It can be used to take care of physical health and mental imbalances. It also can be used to develop human so one who can access to pure energy on their own from the beginning stage of by breathing and linking to another technique: air snapping, practicing of these two to create different energy but for the same goal. Anyone can access to pure energy. Therefore, pure energy should be used to take care of oneself to create a basic balanced state of physical. The detail principles contained in the research lead to the meaning of pure energy, where is it, how it is useful, how can use it, how to use it for healing, how Mr. Kraisorn Prompitak got it, how to study and practice to gain experience, as well as knowledge of other nearby sciences with the same implicit meaning to further enhance understanding of the principles of holistic healing for humanity.

Conceptual Framework

According to definition of the World Health Organization (WHO) definition, complementary and alternative medicine (CAM) is classified into two groups:

1. Systematic CAM or Systematic alternative medicine, which offers degree instruction. There are associations or professional councils to oversee professional ethics, recognized for their legal status and health insurance systems in many countries around the world.

2. Non-Systematic CAM or Non-Systematic alternative medicine, which may be part of the therapeutic techniques of systemic alternative medicine, or it may be a science alone or a unique ability. There is no degree or under any specific associations.

Pure Energy is in the second group. It is the energy to be used for physical healing. There are two types of healings: Biological Energy refers to energy therapy that relies on therapeutic organisms, and Non-Biological Energy refers to the energy that is used in therapy that does not rely on therapeutic organisms (Division of Alternative Medicine, Department of Thai Traditional and Alternative Medicine, https://thaicam.go.th).

By grouping as above, Pure energy will be in the group of alternative medicine in biological energy - internal energy type. The energy from the therapist radiate directly to the patient. In general, this method of therapy is not yet widely accepted because it is a unique ability, and it requires the potential or power of the therapist directly used to heal the patient. Therefore, the result of therapy depends primarily on the patient who will feedback if the physical illness or mental illness is healed or not.

The meaning of Pure Energy

Pure energy is energy with special properties that is used to benefit everything. It can be used effectively by those who have access ability to pure energy and the singalanty occurrence of pure energy that is a natural process. Explaining is quite difficult to understand. Therefore, the authors would like to give an example using scientific theory to explain, to make it easier to understand and visualize. Infer firstly to understand what is the nucleus. The nucleus was discovered by Ernest Rutherford, the scientist who discovered the nucleus of an atom. Nucleus is in the middle of atom which is the smallest basic unit of matter. From Universe: The Definitive Visual Guide, has described that “Matter” is anything that possesses mass - that is, anything affected by gravity. Most matter on Earth is made of atom and ions. Elsewhere in the universe, however, matter exists under a vast range of conditions and takes a variety of forms, from thin interstellar medium to the matter in infinitely dense black holes (Dinwiddie et al, 2012). To summarize for better understanding, matter is oneself or anything around. The state of matter includes solid, liquid, and gases. Matter contains energy. Atom of matter composed of the nucleus located at the center of the atom and is then surrounded by a large number of layers of electrons. The nucleus is composed of protons, which have a positive charge, and electrically neutral neutrons are anchored at the center of the atom or nucleus.

By describing to an easy-to-understand, imagine a nucleus consisting of a proton and a neutron, with a layer of electron running around the nucleus, the center between the proton and the neutron in the nucleus is pure energy, which is in the middle of the nucleus. Pure energy will be in all living things and all lifeless things including all stars in the solar system which is sun-centric and continues to the universe because everything in the universe will come from the smallest matter called atom to the biggest galaxy. The content in this study will concentrate only the pure energy in human body as described in Figure 1 below.

The structure of pure energy in each nucleus of an atom is bonded or attached together like a spider web network. Energy is distributed from the center or spread out. In scientific terms, it is called radiate. When we are connected to the importance of using pure energy for the benefit of maintaining health, it is necessary to explain in terms of image and noun according to the principles of Buddhism. Rupa is visible. It can be tangible, perceived with all 5 organs (ears, eyes, nose, tongue and body). The Nama is something that does not contain a figure which is a symptom expressed by feelings.

Rupa: corporeality; materiality; matter. It is the condition that is broken down due to conflict factors, body and object components, along with its behavior and properties, body parts with both advantage and the symptoms. (P.A. Payutto, 2005).

Rupadhamma refers to corporeality, matter, form, material, body or shape of which are all the existences forming a being or entity.

Namadhamma means those that do not have a corporeality, unknowing by eyes, ears, nose, tongue and body, but feel by heart, Vedana (feeling), Sanna (perception), Sankhara (compounded things) and Vinnana (consciousness or soul).

In summary, the Rupa, and the Nama, that are the Five Aggregates being composed of:
1. Rupa (corporeality) which is the mixture of earth, water, wind and fire such as hair, bone, blood

2. Vedana (feeling) which is feeling of like (happiness), unlike (suffering) and neutral

3. Sanna (Perception) which is remembering, awareness

4. Sankhara (mental formations) which is thinking system, to garnish

5. Vinnana (consciousness or soul) which is various system related with eyes, ears, nose, tongue, body and soul.

From the Five Aggregates, the Rupa is concrete. As for the Vedana, Sanna, Sankhara and Vinnana are abstract. When categorizing the aggregates into the Paramattha-dhamma (the highest good), the souls is organized into mental, feeling-perception-compounded things are organized into mental factors. That means the soul has both pure spirit (a pure nama) and impure spirit. Pure energy is the same as soul in the Paramattha-dhamma. If anyone has access to the soul of Khan, then pure energy is available, which means that the pure mind can be used to heal the body. It is possible to use pure energy to heal the body.

From Figure 2, it is described as follows:

- Body means composition of component to be human body.

- Organ means groups of tissues which gathered and each one of them do have a specific function. The tissues have been divided into main tissues and sporadic tissues. Main tissues are the tissues found in a specific organ such as main tissues in the heart is the heart muscle while sporadic issues such as nervous tissue, blood and related tissue.

- Tissue means group of cells which have similar characteristic, work collaboratively and develop as organs or structure which has a specific duty.

- Cell means structure and the elementary unit of all kind of being. Cell is the least unit of life.
Molecule means the smallest atom of material which can live independently in the nature and can show its specific contribute. Molecule is occurred from two or more atoms chemically combined.

Atom means the smallest element which can be chemical reacted. It composes of 2 major compositions which are nucleus as the core and surrounded by electrons which move around. It is electrically neutral.

Nucleus means the center of atom of all kind of element composed of two important elementary atoms which are photon and neutron (except atom of normal hydrogen of which its nucleus has only photon without neutron).

Quark means elementary particles and are fundamental components of matter.

How to access pure energy in ourselves or in individuals?

This question is important to focus in order to bring the pure energy available to good use, such as health care. According to the author who asked this question to Mr. Kraisorn Prompitak. The answer is pure energy can be accessed via mentality, which means that those who can access must have strong mental meditative potential. Pure energy must be accessed only by mental meditation. Once one has completed self-knowledge, one will be able to access it and can be used effectively. Every human being has pure energy in their own body. It depends on accessibility to pure energy. For example, if one reaches 10% then it can be used to cure in primary of 10% but if accessibility is 100% then despite the ability to cure oneself, it is possible to cure others. Therefore, meditation is the elementary to self-awareness, to do good, know bad things and wisdom in self-consideration and surrounding with understanding in the right views which will be the gate to access pure energy.

The principle of bringing pure energy to health care

From the introduction of pure energy which is in the center of the nucleus that makes up the human body, according to Figure 1 and Figure 2, in which each cell radiates according to the principle of science, from each cell to the human body, can be described in Figure 3 as follows:

The pure energy that radiates is plasma or photon or aura or soul. In other words, pure energy is static electricity that can heal a holistic balance of the human body. Radiation of pure energy from the therapist during healing, patients can perceive by the patient's own feelings, such as body relax, head relax, creepy or feels like an electrical charge spreading along the body. The body is heated, warmth, breathing, relief & etc. After receiving pure energy, only the patient can reply to himself whether he has recovered or not. The healing process and the number of frequency of healings depend on the symptoms of each patient and how long one has been sick for. As mentioned earlier, Pure energy is in the group of alternative medicine in biological energy - internal energy type. The energy from the therapist radiate directly to the patient. In general, this method of therapy is not yet widely accepted because it is a unique ability, and it requires the potential or power of the therapist directly used to heal the patient. Therefore, the result of therapy depends primarily on the patient who will feedback if the physical illness or mental illness is healed or not.

Healing Methods

There are many forms of energy healing according to the guidelines of alternative medicine, such as Therapeutic Touch, which is the process of exchanging energy between the giver and the power receiver through both hands of the giver. Wittaya Tanaree, Energy Therapy, Public Health Science and Technology Faculty Rajabhat Chiangmai University) Wittaya Tanaree has given the meaning of Energy Therapy that it is not magic energy but it is cosmic radiation to heal or relief illness from disease and illness according to the ability level of each individuals same as alternative medicine unit, Faculty of Medicine, Ramathibodi Hospital, Mahidol University has described the Energy Therapies as the healing method using energy to heal, can be measurable and not measurable such as praying therapy, special physical power, cosmic energy, Reiki and Yore. Similar to National Center of Complementary and Alternative Medicine (NCCAM, 2005) of USA who has given the meaning of Energy Therapies as the curing using energy in healing in both measurable and non-measurable such as praying therapy, special physical power, cosmic energy, Reiki and Yore. (Alternative Medicine Office,http://www.thaicam.go.th)

For pure energy therapy, the healing method does not use any tools or devices and any objects that will be brought into the body, such as eating, applying or injecting but only two empty hands, or using a therapeutic method called Healing Touch, using patient contact at the point where the patient is in pain. As for the duration if healing period, it is depends on the illness but usually takes 5-10 minutes to eliminate symptoms for each patient. The frequency of therapy to relieve the illness also depends on the patient's condition. Some patients may get only 1-2 times therapy and they can recover from the illness. However, if the patient has a long-term illness, they may require 1-2 times per week for 1-2 months. Patients can attend the healing by making an inquiry to register or make an appointment at the Office of the Energy and Environment Research Center located in Muang District, Nonthaburi Province open daily from 12.00 a.m. - 6.00 p.m.

II. CONCLUSION

Key factor in determining the selection of pure energy therapy, the main is “open mind.” Patients need to open their minds or understand the symptoms of their illness and understand the process to heal them using two empty hands. Also they should take into account the basic principles or philosophy of the Energy and Environmental Research Center that the healer must have no disease, only the patient will response if he is recovered after healing or not. Benefits obtained from pure energy therapy are:

1. Efficiency: to be proven by oneself or from the closed patients who received the therapy with pure energy on the efficiency (patients will be both Filling and Filler).
2. Cost - Benefit Effectiveness: comparison on the expenses of pure energy therapy with benefit received after suffering from the diseases.
3. Safety: which is the most important in healing patients. The healing should be negatively impact to the health of patients and dangerous during the healing inclusive of the long-term with continuous healing.
4. Efficacy: Proven of actuality with data gathering to confirm the good result of pure energy healing from a large number of patients and with many years of services gaining acceptance and research study.
